The Language of the Fan

In an age when rules of social behavior are often unwritten, the simple fan speaks volumes.

In addition to keeping you cool, they can also be used to heat up a relationship. Join costumer Natalie Meyer for a hands-on workshop where you’ll make your own cockade fan and learn how to use it!

All materials are included. Space is limited, and sign-ups are open now.

Saturday, March 23, 2019
10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Registration is $30 for adults; and $25 seniors/students.
