

Under the Oak Tree:

Exploring Native Plants with the Kizh

Saturday, November 2

10–11 a.m. or 12:30–1:30 p.m.

Join members of the Kizh/Gabrieleño tribe for an engaging outdoor program on the grounds of the Homestead.
Discover how the Kizh used native plants, what these plants did and still do for our environment, and how you can use them in your lives today.

Admission is free, but space is limited.

Reservations are required and can be made in person, online, or over the phone. In the event of rain, the program will be cancelled.
